Continuation of Substance of Interview including description of the general nature of what was agreed to if an agreement was reached, or any other comments: Mr. Patch provided an amended version of the claim. The amendment establishes that the hinge pin extends from the watch case in a first direction and that the annular housing opens radially outwardly in a second direction transverse to the first direction so that the strap must be moved along the second direction in order to have the protrusion entering or exiting the annular housing through the groove. This amendment overcomes the prior art rejection of record. However, additional search may be needed before indicating allowability of claims since the amendment includes new limitations that were not present on the prior claims. A copy of the proposed changes is enclosed.

10. (currently amended) Device for fastening a watch strap to a watch case comprising a hinge pin (1) integral with the watch case (2) and extending from the watch case in a first direction, a fastening element (3) attached to or integrated to an end of ~~[[a]]~~ said strap provided with two lugs (15) defining between them a space (16) to receive the hinge pin (1), each of these lugs comprising an axial recess (17) leading to said space, each of said axial recesses (17) housing an endstone (21) mounted in a sliding manner in said recess (17) and bearing a push button (20) attached to an external end of the endstone (21), the hinge pin (1) comprising on a lateral face an annular housing (25) having opening radially outwardly through a groove (26) defining an advantageous orientation in a second direction transverse to said first direction, said annular housing (25) receiving a protrusion

(27) located on [[a]] said lug (15), whereby, for a user to fasten or remove the watch strap from the watch case, [[a]] said button must be pushed and simultaneously said end of the strap must extend in said second direction ~~be in said~~ ~~advantageous orientation with respect to the hinge pin.~~

(27) located on [[a]] said lug (15), whereby, for a user to fasten or remove the watch strap from the watch case, [[a]] said button must be pushed and simultaneously said end of the strap must extend in said second direction ~~be in said~~ advantageous orientation with respect to the hinge pin.
